Get-Out-The-Vote Efforts By Scouts

It has been wisely said that corrupt governments are made by good people who do nothing. To help correct this dangerous state of affairs, the Boy Scouts of America and the Freedoms Foundation, Inc. of Valley Forge, are launching the Get-Out-The-Vote campaign for the third time in a decade.

In both campaigns of 1952 and 1954, executed on a strictly nonpartisan basis, the Boy Scouts and Freedoms Foundation were praised for their help in producing record numbers of voters at the polls.

We are proud that Gulf Stream County already is actively involved in the giant scheme to get out the voters with about 4,500 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers, and their leaders already aiding their force to the fit registration, when they are of voting age.

On Saturday, Oct. 29, beginning at 8 a. m., Boy Scouts of Belle Glade will participate in this campaign. Boys of Troop 621, sponsored by Everglades Presbyterian Church and the Explorer Troop will also help.

THE FUTURE OF "MAIN STREET"

The country over, there is concern whether or not "Main Street" can maintain its traditional commercial power.

This concern results from the development of suburban shopping centers. The problem is most acute in sizeable cities, where downtown "core" areas have been losing trade in significant amounts to the outlying districts. But it is problem in smaller communities too, and it will grow as surely as night follows day.

An editorial in Chain Store Age has this to say about it: "Main Street can be very much alive—but it takes more than wish fulfillment to keep the blood coursing through its veins.

"The vigor of Main Street seems to depend on a fortunate combination of circumstances which include:

"A reasonable expectation that the central business district can increase, or at least hold on to, its share of trade.

"The recognition by merchants, property owners, financing institutions and civic officials that they must work together to keep downtown on its feet.

"The further recognition that investments must be made in modernization, new building, parking facilities, roads, public transportation, and sales promotion.

"And the incentive to do what has to be done with all necessary speed."

In short Main Street can survive and prosper—but it will take thought, planning and work. Wishing won't accomplish the job.

SOCKING THE MOTORIST

Just about every motorist, at one time or another, kicks about the "high price of gasoline."

What he should be kicking about is the "high price of gasoline taxes."

Today—with the allegedly "temporary" fourth cent that was added to the federal gas tax last October—the combined national average of federal and state taxes is more than 10 cents a gallon.

This means that the taxes now average, on a nationwide basis, 48 per cent of the retail prices of regular grade gas, 62 per cent of the wholesale price, and 85 percent of the refinery price. Taxes actually amount to more than half of the retail price of the fuel in 20 states, and in some areas equal the refinery price. Such luxuries as fur coats and jewelry carry far smaller excise taxes and no other necessity is comparably treated.

Moreover, here is a tax which is demonstrating the validity of the law of diminishing returns. The swing toward smaller, more economical automobiles, foreign and domestic, is largely due to their thrifty fuel consumption. These cars account for more and more of our total automobile population. So gas tax revenues will decline because fewer gallons will be burned. Then, no doubt, it will be urged that taxes be further increased to make up the loss—and so the spiral can go on, ad infinitum.

The solution would seem to be a wave of protest by motorists—a category which includes most of the voters.

SIX MISTAKES OF MAN

The Roman philosopher and statesman Cicero, said it two thousand years ago, and it's still true today. The "six mistakes of man" are:

1. The delusion that individual advancement is made by crushing others.
2. The tendency to worry about things that cannot be changed or corrected.
3. Insisting that a thing is impossible because we cannot accomplish it.
4. Refusing to set aside trivial preferences.
5. Neglecting development and refinement of the mind and not acquiring the habit of reading and study.
6. Attempting to compel other persons to believe and live as we do.

LAFF IT OFF

Experience is a wonderful thing. It enables you to recognize a mistake when you make it again.

When a woman first learns to drive a car she's very observant. Often she misses nothing. One advantage of air travel is that it enables you to pass motorists at a safe distance. Clothes don't make the woman, but they often show how she is made.

Uncle Dan From Democrat River

Dear Mister Editor:
Seems like I been going to a heap of meetings lately. Friday night I went to a small gathering of the women folks. They was trying to get some kind of neighborhood canneries together, and I wanted to give some advice from the men folks. I didn't offer none on account of knowing any woman smart enough to ask a man's advice ain't dumb enough to take it. Anyhow, the men couldn't get in a word edgewise. I was reading in the papers the other day where the average American family consists of 3.7 members. After going to that meeting I found out who the 7 member family was. Mister Editor, they'll shake your faith in the right of the female to vote.

Saturday night I went up to the country store to find out how things is going on a worldwide basis. When I got there Ed Doolittle was telling about a land down here in North Carolina where you've got to boil slop afore you feed it to the hogs. The fellow in charge was in favor of this. Clem Webster said that with a little piece of ham costing 30 cents a pound, nothing was too good for the hog that produced it, if ham gets back to a dollar a pound, Clem allowed how he was in favor of giving the hogs a little ice cream for dessert. All the fellow was upset about them Congressmen spending tax money for liquor and fine hotels while taking their kinfolks on these trips to all parts of the world. Zeke Grubb said he set down the other night to write his Congressman a letter critiquing such things but he got so tired he fell asleep. He up to spell critiquing that he didn't have no time left to write the letter.

They do some crazy things in Washington, Mister Editor, but I reckon it's good we got such a place. They say the good Lord provided the dog with flea's so he'd be too worried about being itchy to worry about being a dog. I reckon the Lord give us Congress to keep us from worrying ourselves to death over things closer home. And if a feller goes crazy he can always move to Washington where nobody will notice it. I closed out my week of meetings by going to preaching Sunday morning. Our preacher said he was putting on a "little collection drive." He got mighty personal about it, too. Told the congregation they couldn't take it with 'em and that where some of 'em was going it would burn up anybody. Some collection drive we've had lately—and we have one ever Sunday. One champion, I was where we got a new collection. Up to now, Coudledge has held the record with "I do not choose to run" I liams last week for a statement on taxes. "They will continue," he said.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

Many Disabled Under Fifty Qualified Under New Social Security Law

Social Security District Manager R. C. Gehrkens, Jr., stated today that in day-to-day operations of the West Palm Beach office, he and fellow employees in the field are residents who do not realize that now they may be qualified at any age for social security disability.

Gehrkens explained that under the new law signed by the President on September 13, 1960, workers who become totally disabled under 65 years of age and certain of their dependents may be paid monthly cash disability benefits. Under the old law, no disability benefits were payable if the worker was under age 50.

To qualify for these benefits, Gehrkens said, the disabled worker must meet two conditions: (1) have social security credit for at least 5 years out of the 10 years just before he became disabled and (2) have a severe and long lasting disability which keeps him from doing previous work.

No disability benefits are computed on the same basis as retirement benefits at age 65. A disabled worker many times has certain dependents who are entitled to benefits.

Old as the history of man is the burning of incense and quite a story it makes—the beginning of the uses of incense and the varied purposes of its use—symbolic in worship, perfume appeal for melody, to warm and deodorize the home, and many other purposes.

This small attractive gift shop also has a varied supply of candles— from the religious prayer candles to types for any and all occasions. Mrs. Ackles will also carry a line of costume jewelry, fresh cut flowers and potted plants.

This promises to be an interesting shopping spot in our town. . . for the ladies—a gift stop for men as well.

Of equal sensual appeal is the new bakery opening at 157 Avenue A. What exotic aroma ever exhaled that of home-made bread baking . . . cookies, pies and cakes just fresh from the oven?

The proprietor, Mr. Eddie Atkinson (and in this week's HERALD) announces the sale of all sorts of goodies for your daily or party needs as well as for those super-duper occasions.

It's our guess both businesses will find a warm welcome from the folks round abouts.

HUNTERS' HELPER

FLARE RED FOR SAFETY

With a record number of hunters hitting the trails in search of game this year, the woods and fields are becoming increasingly hazardous. As a result to accident prevention, flares used in poaching "hunts" are being used in the woods. The bright red color eliminates that risk of black which can signal "deer" to other hunters.

Hunters must be careful when discharging firearms near residences and highways, warned Louis P. Gainey, Regional Manager, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

A continued disregard for public safety and private property will surely invite local ordinances against hunting. Gainey also added that a continued disregard for this has aroused the anger of the public in these hunting areas.

Hunters must remember that it is against the law to discharge firearms within 300 yards of an occupied building or a public highway, said Gainey.

Hunters should make an effort to first obtain permission from land owners before hunting on private or posted lands.

Gainey concluded that courteous minded and safety-conscious hunters often spell a successful hunting season for our Florida Sportsmen.

Fia. Expects Gain of Four in Congress

Florida's fourth Congressional district moved up to the second most populous district in the nation during the past ten years while the state's sixth district grew 158 per cent to rank it the thirty-first.

"Dade and Monroe counties, which comprise the fourth district, have a combined population of 969,000, and are second according to the preliminary official count. Only one district, in southern California, is larger by about 40,000."

"The sixth Florida district extends from Indian River county through Broward and across the state to the Gulf. This area of eleven counties has a population of 877,724 population from 1950. One district each in California and New York grew faster."

"Florida's first district, with a population of 807,187, ranked seventh nationally in size and registered an 85 per cent gain during the ten years. Hillsborough, Pinellas, Pasco and Hernando comprise this district."

"The fifth district extends through Broward and across the state to the Gulf. This area of eleven counties has a population of 877,724 population from 1950. One district each in California and New York grew faster."

Marine Band

Precision And Musicianship With Superb Showmanship

The United States Marine Band—"The President's Own"—played its way into the hearts of almost 2500 people in two top-notch, enthusiastically received concerts here Tuesday. The audiences were more than amply rewarded for the five-year wait to bring the band to Belle Glade by its fine precision and musicianship and superb showmanship.

Sponsored by the Belle Glade Lions and Rotary Clubs with receipts going to the High School Music Department, the band, directed by Lt. Col. Albert Schoepfer, presented an afternoon assembly concert for students and a formal evening concert.

The more-than-capacity crowd at the matinee showed its approval of the band by thunderous applause after each selection. The varied program appealed to all—from the senior high band members down to kindergarten youngsters. The students especially liked the beautifully done trombone solo, "Atlantic Zephyr," the six cornets' rendition of Leroy Anderson's "Bugler's Holiday" and a vocal solo, "The Green-Eyed Dragon," all of which received encores. The vocal soloist, William Feltus, was also the narrator, and he enchanted the audiences at both concerts with his professional style and unique delivery.

Also heard at the afternoon program was the ever-popular "Stars and Stripes Forever" by John Philip Sousa, a medley of Rodgers and Hammerstein songs "Chorus and Aladdin" and the foremost contemporary American, Howard Hanson, and other selections. The closing number, "The Marine's Hymn," brought loud and long applause and the wish that the concert could last much longer.

According to Lt. Col. Schoepfer, we can be very proud of our students, for they were the most enthusiastic group for which the band has performed thus far on its 160 tour.

The band opened the evening concert with "The Star Spangled Banner," played as the "Diplomat." A Sousa march, "The Diplomat," was played in the technical precision that has made the Marine Band so renowned. The overture to the opera "The Masquerade" by Mascagni, well-received, and the band played it with fine precision and superb showmanship. A modern arrangement of several Cole Porter tunes was well done, particularly by the saxophones and trombones, and the cornets were featured in Smith's "Bolero," with "Bugler's Holiday" as an encore.

Wagner's "The Feast of the Apostles," probably one of the heaviest numbers on the program, was also one of the finest. The lower brasses, and especially the trombones, played this selection with unsurpassed beauty and sensitivity, and proved that they are tops in the country.

Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever" ended the first half on a novel note. The "Horse-drawn Carriage" section, complete with sound effects (even a horse) brought laughter from the audiences. Accordionist Donald Landau did a fine job playing his own composition, "Swiss Fantasy," and an encore, "Around the World in 80 Days." A slower number, the well-known "Chorus and Aladdin" by Rodgers and Hammerstein songs, was also the narrator, and he enchanted the audiences at both concerts with his professional style and unique delivery.

Also heard at the afternoon program was the ever-popular "Stars and Stripes Forever" by John Philip Sousa, a medley of Rodgers and Hammerstein songs "Chorus and Aladdin" and the foremost contemporary American, Howard Hanson, and other selections. The closing number, "The Marine's Hymn," brought loud and long applause and the wish that the concert could last much longer.

According to Lt. Col. Schoepfer, we can be very proud of our students, for they were the most enthusiastic group for which the band has performed thus far on its 160 tour.

TB Could Be Wiped Out By Everybody Doing

"The tools for the control of tuberculosis are now in our hands. The problem is to make the public aware of their existence and to persuade people to use them. In an effort to solve this problem, the Palm Beach County Tuberculosis and Health Association has formed a Health Information Committee," according to Doyle Rogers, president.

At the first meeting, October 21 at the County Court-house, the members discussed methods of reaching the most people and the best way to make more vivid the great need for increased efforts in tuberculosis control. The crux of the whole problem was very neatly summed up by Mr. Lake Lyall when he said, "you know, if everyone did what they were supposed to do, TB could be wiped out."

ten-pin notes

All of the good bowling isn't on T. V., as our own Glades Lanes people continue to tear-up the pins. Jerry "Mutt" Glades bowled 'em over for a whopping 255-61 in the Sawgrass League while Martha Brane was bawling out a 216 game and a 560 series in the Gladiators League.

Disgusting, isn't it? . . . To be rolling a good game and suddenly fall flat on your seat. That's what happens when one of our fellow bowlers feel they have to have a soda pop while bowling. . . . accidentally spill it . . . and it is tracked all over the lanes. Let's keep the refreshments behind the seats and save the temps . . . huh gang?

If your name isn't in the paper when you roll a high series or game, it's because some league secretaries are using first names only on the average sheets. Too many identical first names would make it useless to say—"Donna rolled 300."
